

CALLIE PATTESON

Freelance Journalist

<https://www.calliepatteson.com/>

Phone

+1 603 973-0956

Email

callie.patteson@gmail.com

Location

New Hampshire, USA +
Amsterdam, Netherlands

About Me

Accomplished freelance journalist with extensive experience covering national politics and crime in the United States seeking a role covering climate change. Has covered a variety of beats including entertainment, small businesses and personal finance. Regularly works on long-term exclusive stories as well as daily breaking news and has a detailed rolodex of sources.

Skills

- SPSS
- Python via JupyterLab
- Copy Editing
- Interviewing
- Infographic Design
- Reporting
- Social Media
- SEO
- Wordpress

Hobbies

- Baking
- Tennis
- Skiing

languages

English

Experience

Freelance Journalist, Writer 2022 - Present
The US Sun, Fast Company, Metro UK, the Washington Examiner, TURBOCAM International

I currently work as a freelance journalist and writer mainly covering politics and crime in the United States several times a week. My reporting also extends across other beats including entertainment, small businesses, personal finance, and daily breaking news. I have also produced several marketing articles for a New Hampshire-based manufacturing company.

National Politics Reporter 2021 - 2022
The New York Post

I covered the White House, Congress and foreign policy as a staff reporter, writing an average of five to six stories each day. I regularly coordinated with local and Washington D.C. teams for assignments. Additionally, I consistently communicated with Congressional offices, the White House and Federal Departments for articles and exclusives.

Associate Breaking News Editor 2020 - 2021
The Washington Examiner

In this role, I edited over a dozen articles each day across various beats including health, Congress, and breaking news. I served as the head editor of the paper on Sundays, handling alert and homepage discussions. Additionally, I produced dozens of stories primarily focused on national politics, including 2020 election audits.

Freelance Journalist 2020 - 2020
The US Sun, TODAY.com, Moms.com

I pitched articles to various outlets on a daily and weekly basis, operating on a quick turnaround for copy. I covered a variety of beats including entertainment, health, parenting, politics, and crime. During this time, one of my pieces on coronavirus stimulus checks for The US Sun garnered more than a million views within 24 hours

Education

MA in Journalism, Media and Globalization 2022 - Present
Aarhus University + University of Amsterdam

I am currently completing my masters degree through Erasmus Mundus. I completed the first year at Aarhus University in Denmark, and am on track to finish the degree in June. Throughout my studies I have become skilled in SPSS, Python coding, Infographic design, and academic writing.

BA in Journalism, Culture and Society 2016 - 2020
The King's College, New York, NY

I received my bachelor's degree from The King's College in journalism. During my studies, I was apart of the student organization House of Margaret Thatcher in which I coordinated a multi-thousand dollar event for over 200. I also served as a Senior Reporter and Executive Producer for the campus broadcast program, Empire State Television.